Dear Prime Minister,

I had hoped until this moment that with the stringent health measures, it would finally be possible to come back together again in January to address the manifold challenges the world is confronting. The World Economic Forum has received overwhelming support and interest from government and business leaders globally to participate in the Annual Meeting in Davos, recognizing the critical need to meet face-to-face to rebuild trust after two tumultuous years.

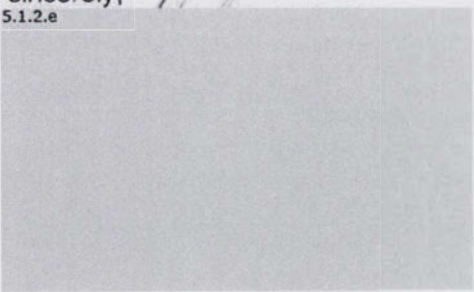

Yet, the uncertainty of Omicron and the attendant public health implications unfortunately make this impossible. Therefore, the Forum needs to postpone its in-person meeting. The health and safety of participants and the community is the most important priority. As soon as conditions allow, discussions will take place to find a new date for the Annual Meeting.

During the Annual Meeting week, 17 to 21 January 2022, the Forum will hold a series of virtual State of the World sessions. There will also be numerous virtual sessions related to public-private cooperation platforms in order not to lose momentum on the important ongoing work.

The Forum's mission, as the International Organization for Public-Private Cooperation, is at the core of everything the Forum does. The focus will continue on the manifold impact-oriented initiatives.

I am grateful for your engagement and that of your government and look forward to the opportunity when it will be possible to gather in person again, hopefully next summer. I hope that the new year will bring renewed optimism for a healthier, happier, and safer world.

Yours sincerely,

Subject: Prime Minister_Congratulations letter and invitation to speak at the Davos Agenda

Dear 5.1.2.e
Happy new year. Hope you had a restful and joyful break.

We were pleased to learn from the news about the formation of the new government. I am pleased to share with you the congratulation letter from our Founder and Executive Chairman, Prof Schwab.

As already mentioned before the Christmas break, we are holding a series of virtual dialogues during the week of the 17-21 January. As such we would like to extend the invitation for the Prime Minister to be one of the panellist for our high-level virtual session which will take place on Friday 21st of January 2022 at 15.00 – 15.45 CET on “Building Future Preparedness”. Given that we are only a couple of weeks away from the session, would it be possible to let me know if the Prime Minister would be happy to speak on the panel by the 10th of January ? I apologize for the tight deadline. Please find the official letter of invitation from Prof Schwab.

I would be grateful if you could share the enclosed letters with the office of the Prime Minister. Please do let me know if you need any additional information from my side.

Building Future Preparedness
Friday 21st of January 2022 15.00 – 15.45

Despite warnings that a global pandemic was a real possibility, few countries were ready for COVID-19. The world has also been disastrously late in responding to evidence of damaging climate change.

As we face an uncertain future, what lessons about risk, resilience and preparedness must be learned?

Dear Prime Minister,

It is my honour to invite you to share your perspectives during the high-level leadership panel on Building Future Preparedness, which will take place on 21 January from 15.00 to 15.45 CET in the context of the World Economic Forum's Davos Agenda Week being held virtually from 17 to 21 January 2022.

Nearly two years after the start of global disruptions due to COVID-19, economies, societies and organizations are continuing to grapple with the unpredictable trajectory of the virus.

The Davos Agenda will mobilize heads of state and government, business leaders, international organizations and civil society to share their outlook, insights and plans relating to the most urgent global issues.

This leadership panel will have wide media visibility, while also providing for an opportunity to engage with business leaders from the Forum's 1,000 Partner companies.

I believe your leadership and insight are absolutely essential to the deliberations. As such, the Forum will contact your office to ensure that this engagement is of maximum value to you and the Netherlands.

Yours sincerely,

Thank you so much for your email.
I am doing well, hope you are also keeping well and healthy.
Indeed, the new dates are 22-26 May 2022 physically in Davos. Well noted that the Prime Minister has tentatively blocked the time on his agenda, we will take into account this information as we build the programme for the Prime Minister.
Since the announcement about the new dates was just made, our teams are now working on the invitations strategy and the programme. Please allow me 2-3 weeks to connect with my colleagues and then I hope I will be able to share with you an agenda of maximum impact for the Prime Minister and for the Netherlands.

World Economic Forum heeft nieuwe datum voor top in Davos

VRIJDAG 21 JANUARI 2022 | 16:43 | MEDIANET ECO | PRIORITEIT: 3 | 1 | WOORDEN: 176

• DAVOS (ANP/RTR/AFP) - De organisatoren van het World Economic Forum (WEF) hebben een nieuwe datum vastgesteld voor de internationale top. Die wordt nu van 22 tot 26 mei gehouden in het Zwitserse skidorp Davos, als dat tegen die tijd veilig kan.

De afgelopen twee jaar zijn de bijeenkomsten via internet gehouden vanwege de coronapandemie. Het WEF stond aanvankelijk wel gepland voor deze maand, maar eind december werd bekend dat de top opnieuw zou worden uitgesteld vanwege corona.

Doorgaans komen regeringsleiders en andere politici, maar ook topbestuurders uit het bedrijfsleven aan het begin van het jaar in Davos bijeen om te bespreken wat de wereld nodig heeft. Bij de komende top wordt onder meer gesproken over het herstel van de coronacrisis en de aanpak van klimaatverandering.

Het evenement vond al decennia vrijwel ieder jaar plaats in Davos. Het Zwitserse skioord werd iedere winter een week overgenomen door de mondiale politieke en bedrijfselite. Alleen in 2002, in de nasleep van de terroristische aanslagen in New York, verhuisde de bijeenkomst uit solidariteit voor een keer naar die Amerikaanse miljoenenstad.

Dear Prime Minister,

Although the global pandemic did not allow for participants to meet as foreseen in January, it is now my great pleasure to invite you to the World Economic Forum Annual Meeting 2022, which will take place in Davos-Klosters, Switzerland, from 22 to 26 May under the theme Preparing for the Post-COVID Era.

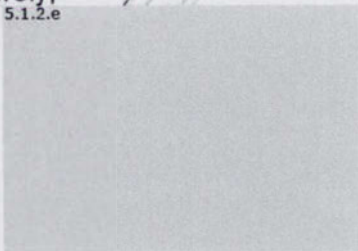

This will be the first truly global, in-person gathering to strengthen public-private cooperation, preparing for the post-COVID era.

Key topics to be addressed will include: restoring trust in the global system and its institutions; finding the appropriate policy mix to strengthen long-term global recovery; preparing for the next United Nations Climate Change Conference (COP27); addressing the roots of global and national inequality; strengthening the resilience of the global health system; defining principles to ensure that the Fourth Industrial Revolution serves humanity.

At such a pivotal time for Europe and the world, your personal engagement on behalf of the Netherlands will be crucial to shaping a shared future founded upon trust and global cooperation. It would be an honour to welcome you back to Davos, along with a strong ministerial delegation from your government.

The Forum will work closely with your office to ensure that your participation is of the greatest impact and relevance for you and for the Netherlands. I look forward to welcoming you personally in Davos.

Yours sincerely,

Hope you are well. Thank you for sharing the first draft of the PM proposed agenda. We discussed it Thursday with the team of the PM. On your specific question of time/date of arrival:

Unfortunately due to another visit abroad, PM Rutte cannot arrive on Monday evening. His original schedule aimed for arriving in Davos (incl travel time from the airport) on Tuesday at 17h. His team did mention it would be important for the PM to participate in the high-level panel on the topic of Europe's unity. Would 17h be a possible time for the panel? Or do you see a possibility for the panel on the Wednesday as well?

Dear 5.1.2.e

Thank you for your email.

As promised, please find here enclosed the framework agenda for the Prime Minister.

We have delayed our programme release to later this months, after our Board of Trustee meeting, to ensure we reflect the latest geopolitical developments. Hence our programme is not yet final and changes could still occur. I have tried to reflect some key elements for the agenda of the Prime Minister. The Tuesday panel – which is the high level panel where we aim to invite other Prime Ministers of Europe – is scheduled for the moment on Tuesday morning. While the timing could still change, I wonder about what flexibility the Prime Minister has in travelling already on Monday evening? Or if he is set to be in Davos only on Tuesday afternoon as per 5.1.2.e previous email? Based on that we will work with our programme team and ensure that the Prime Minister can participate to a high-level panel on the topic of Europe's unity.

Another key element is the meeting with private sector on the CEO Action Group for the European Green Deal, where we wish to have the Prime Minister as special guest. This would be a private session that will allow a lively interaction with more than 50 business CEOs part of the community.

As you can see from the other elements, they are still preliminary and this is because we have delayed a bit our programme release.

I hope this framework agenda could support you in your discussion with the Prime Minister office tomorrow.

20220321

Regarding Minister Hoekstra and Minister Kaag, given that they are Deputy Prime Minister they should have the opportunity to bring with them 1 Accompanying person – if I consider the policies that we adopted for January 2022 -, though we have not yet finalized the Accompanying people guidelines yet. I hope I will be able to share with you a definite answer soon.

Please do let me know if you need any further information from my side

Dear Prime Minister,

I would like to thank you for confirming your participation in the World Economic Forum Annual Meeting 2022, which will take place in Davos-Klosters, Switzerland, from 22 to 26 May. The Annual Meeting 2022 will convene amid the most consequential geopolitical, geo-economic and public health moment of the past three decades. Please come to the session room 20 minutes before the session starts for a preparatory briefing with the Moderator.

Introduction (3 min)

The Moderator will open the session on time by welcoming participants, framing the topic, and briefly introducing Panellists. The Moderator will remind the online audience that if they are sharing about us through their social channels, they should use the hashtag #WEF22. If using Slido, the Moderator will also let both the in-person and online audiences know that they can get involved in the session by submitting their questions to Panellists via the app (directions for submission to be shown on the screen). An opening poll/question can be done to kick off the discussion and get the audience used to Slido.

Relevant background details for Panellists include:

- [Insert here: Speaker Initiatives/Projects (Forum/non-Forum) relevant to session, interesting facts, links]

- After a period of geopolitical slumber, Europe has found a new clarity about what it stands for, as a major land war broke out on its territory three months ago. A narrative built around a collective effort to fight for democracy, freedom and peace resonates today as strongly as it ever had seven decades ago, and members and Western allies have shown remarkable unity in quickly enacting a series of strong sanctions and agreeing on arms purchases and measures to support the Ukrainian population following Russia's invasion.
- However, convincing countries beyond the immediate West will be crucial if Europe's current geopolitical reawakening is to translate into a more prominent geostrategic posture. How can Europe promote more effective cooperation with partners, particularly in Africa, Asia, and the Middle East?
- And how can the old continent deliver on the continued unity and decisiveness it will need to overcome the enormous geopolitical, economic, ecological, and domestic challenges it confronts?

Discussion (20 min)

The Moderator will engage the Panellists in a lively conversation to get their perspectives on the guiding questions or points as outlined below. The Moderator will then build on the introductory round of conversation by asking questions to create a dynamic flow of interaction among the Panellists.

Guiding questions may include:

- Has the war in Ukraine engendered a stronger sense of European unity?
- What are the prospects for EU expansion, following the war?
- What are the EU's longer-term plans to diversify its energy sources? (Rutte in April: "What the Netherlands would actually like to achieve is being independent of Russian gas and Russian oil before the end of the year.")
- What is the future of the EU's relationship with Russia?
- What is the global role of the EU in a markedly different geopolitical context than the start of the 21st century?
- How can the EU approach divergence among its member states, particularly when it comes to the rule of law, judicial independence, and freedom of the press?
- How can Europe play a stronger role as a trade partner and source of investments in emerging and developing markets?

Q&A (20 min)

The Moderator will turn to the audience for questions.

Conclusion (2 minutes)

With 2 minutes remaining, the Moderator will share the top takeaways from the discussion and bring the session to a close on time.

A Fresh Water Future

Wednesday 25 May 08:45 - 09:45
Congress Centre, Aspen 1

The poor health and disruption of water systems has compromised our ability to weather the deadly droughts, heatwaves and floods that have become the norm and are expected to worsen in the future.

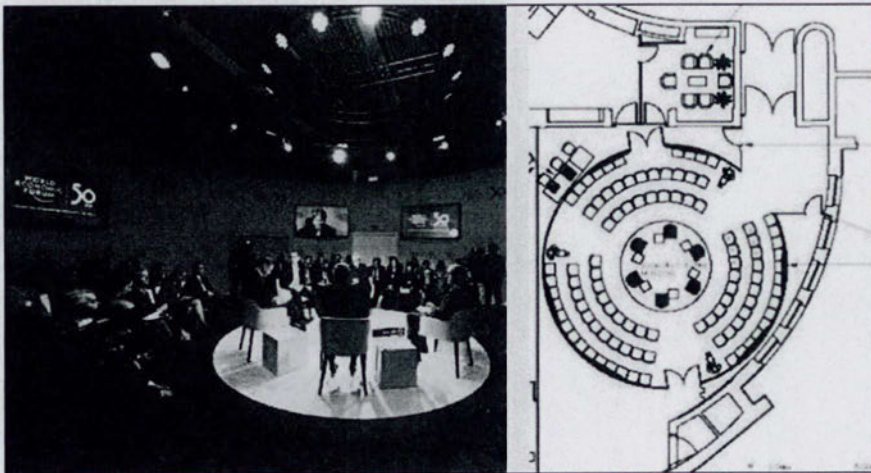

What bold ideas can be taken forward to the United Nations 2023 Water Conference for a water-resilient economy?

This is a livestreamed session.

Reporting press: Allowed.

Session duration: 60 minutes.

Format and layout:

Context:

In 2023, the UN will host its first major international water summit in over four decades. While a number of good initiatives have emerged in recent years, we are far from the needed tipping point. AM22 can help raise and accelerate the agenda and shift the trajectory towards water security.

Objective:

To create energy and momentum for a leader-level push on water towards the 2023 UN Water Conference (and beyond to 2030).

The session will include:

Panellist

- 5.1.2.e [REDACTED]
- 5.1.2.e [REDACTED]
- Mark Rutte (Confirmed), Prime Minister of the Netherlands

- 5.1.2.e [REDACTED]
- 5.1.2.e [REDACTED]

Moderated by

- 5.1.2.e [REDACTED]

Session Structure:

08:45 – 08:50 Introduction and Scene Setting

Moderator opens the session, welcomes participants, and frames the session for the discussion.

Some key points:

- Water related risks remain among the most pervasive, and stubborn challenges of our time (as reflected in the WEF Global Risk Report)
- The facts continue to be grim – where over a quarter of the global population – 2 billion people – use unsafe drinking water sources. Over 80% of wastewater is released to the environment untreated. Almost three quarters of all recent disasters are water-related, having caused economic damage of almost US$700 billion in the past 20 years.
- COVID put the spotlight on the vulnerabilities of our global water systems – not only in terms of the importance of safe water access and hand hygiene, but also the fragility of our global supply chains
- Where water is traditionally considered a local issue, is now undeniably a global issue
- At the same time, following the global effort to tackle COVID and recent geopolitical conflicts in the world, it may be an understatement to say the conditions in which governments and business alike are operating are challenging. Resources and energy have been depleted, yet so many economic, social, and environmental priorities remain top of mind – if not even more urgent. Climate change, nature, social justice, health and wellbeing of populations. The list goes on.
- The natural instinct is to try and prioritize – which one to tackle first? Which is more important?
- There is an opportunity however for water to be the enabler and impact multiplier across multiple agendas and helping us to realize a transition to a green economy and net-zero / decarbonized industries
- To achieve this, there is an urgency for renewed energy, new multistakeholder approaches and innovation, and wider engagement and champions of other sectors in the agenda to position water as an enabler and impact multiplier across economic, social, and environmental agendas
- A powerful opportunity exists in 2023 with the UN Water Conference – the first in 44 years – and we can not shy away from this
- In this session, we'll explore these important links that water has across key efforts like climate change, and surface some interesting ideas looking forward

08:50 – 09:40 The Challenge and Opportunity of Water

Moderator will facilitate an open discussion with panellists. The suggested format is in two rounds of questions:

In Round 1, the desired outcome of this segment will be to help viewers understand:

- Water's connection to other topics like climate change, health and wellbeing, social justice etc
- Water's link across all industries and sectors, and not just the obvious industries (agriculture, or food, beverage, and consumer goods)
- Water must be central to business and other sustainability strategies like climate change and decarbonization. Otherwise we risk derailing and not achieving these efforts.

Proposal is to go in the following order:

1. 5.1.2.e (3 min)
2. 5.1.2.e (3 min)
3. 5.1.2.e (3 min)
4. 5.1.2.e (3 min)
5. Mark Rutte, Prime Minister of the Government of Netherlands (5 min)

For Prime Minister Rutte, Netherlands:

*Prime Minister, the Government of the Netherlands is the co-host of the upcoming 2023 UN Water Conference – the first in over 4 decades, and what many are considering an important milestone for the agenda. We've heard other panellists illustrate the interconnections water has across agendas. What is your vision for the Conference to bring these dimensions to the fore, and what do you want to achieve in terms of outcomes?

Prime Minister to touch on:

- 2023 UN Water Conference to be a watershed moment for the agenda
- The 3 principles of the Conference: Inclusive, Action-Oriented, Cross-Sectoral
- Need all stakeholders involved, and not just participating, but committing to action that will set a clear agenda to 2030
- Need to identify:
 - What works and can be / needs to be scaled and replicated
 - Doesn't work, and why – so that we can build on experience to create successes
 - Identify areas where we need to innovate
- In this context, want to produce a set of commitments – not only of individual organizations, but partnerships and cross-sectoral initiatives
- The idea of a Global Pact for Water

In Round 2, the desired outcome of this segment is to surface interesting existing initiatives or new ideas that could be built upon and supported in the lead in to the 2023 UN Water Conference.

Proposal is to follow the same order.

For Prime Minister Rutte, Netherlands:

Prime Minister, we've heard some examples of initiatives and ideas. What might you encourage or challenge these water champions to consider as they continue thinking and developing these ideas?

Prime Minister to touch on:

- This is a great start. Welcome these kinds of ideas and thinking
- Let's certainly build on what we know, existing initiatives
- But we also need even more ideas brought to the Conference. And we need even more champions – from industry yes, but also governments, civil society, entrepreneurs, youth and more
- We've discussed the need to go beyond "Business as Usual" if we are to solve the global water challenge – and the need to innovate
- The key is cross-sectoral, action-oriented, and inclusive – we need to further develop these ideas so they are at the scale that can really tip this water agenda forward
- We need more leaders and organizations involved
- We hope this is the start, and we can use this WEF platform and others in the next months to create the energy and momentum to land at the 2023 UN Water Conference
- Hope to see all of you there

At 09:40, the Moderator will draw the discussion to a close.

09:40 – 09:45 Final remarks

Moderator invites final 30 second reflections from panellists.

Moderator thanks participants and closes the session.

09:45 Session end

Congress Centre, Congress Hall

Preparatory discussion: 09:30 - 10:00

The European Union surprised the world with the speed, scale and unity of its response to Russia's invasion of Ukraine.

Coming after a unified approach to the pandemic, is adversity forcing the EU to adopt a more assertive role as a global economic and geopolitical actor?

This is a livestreamed session.

[THIS SESSION STRUCTURE IS PRELIMINARY AND SUBJECT TO CHANGE]

SESSION FLOW

Please come to the session room 30 minutes before the session starts for a preparatory briefing with the Moderator.

Introduction (3 min)

The Moderator will open the session on time by welcoming participants, framing the topic, and briefly introducing Panellists. The Moderator will remind the online audience that if they are sharing about us through their social channels, they should use the hashtag #WEF22.

Scene setting:

- Europe has found strengthened unity and purpose with a focus on battling for democracy, security and a stable global order.
- However, the effects of sanctions are starting to be felt—strong inflationary pressure is being felt on the continent and resulting political pressure is mounting in some countries.
- At the same time, the possibility of a NATO expansion is creating some frictions.
- Can Europe remain united and how can Europe promote more effective cooperation with partners, particularly in Africa, Asia, and the Middle East?

Discussion (40 min)

The Moderator will engage the Panellists in a lively conversation to get their perspectives on the guiding questions or points as outlined below. The Moderator will then build on the introductory round of conversation by asking questions to create a dynamic flow of interaction among the Panellists.

Guiding questions may include:

- Prime Minister Rutte, you said in March that "it's time to build a stronger, more resilient Europe", one where "the EU must be a global player". Is this a turning point for Europe's global role, or more of a flash in the pan that may soon pass?
141 countries voted to condemn Russia at the UN General Assembly, but many countries in Africa and Asia abstained from voting. Most of the material support for Ukraine is coming from Western powers. Many nations it seems don't really want to choose sides. What does this mean for Europe's geopolitical role in the world?
- 5.1.2.e you were elected President of the European Parliament only weeks before the war in Ukraine broke out, and your clear stance in response has been a defining feature of your presidency thus far. With the last European enlargement now almost 10 years ago [Croatia, 2013], what are the prospects for EU expansion? Are different levels of integration in an "à la carte Europe" the future of the European project? And can a growing Europe remain united, or will expansion create new friction points among members?
 - Additional context on other speakers: 5.1.2.e at the European Youth Parliament in mid-April said, "The people of Ukraine see their future in the European Union, and I very much welcome and support their application for membership."
- 5.1.2.e Ireland enjoyed a €4.5bn trade relationship with Russia before the war broke out. Other European countries also held strong economic ties with Russia. What do you believe is the outlook for the EU's relationship with Russia? Economically, geopolitically? Are we looking at the return of an iron curtain across Europe?
- 5.1.2.e : The sanctions imposed on Russia are adding to strong global inflationary headwinds. In many countries in Europe the price of fuel and important commodities are spiking. Already, we are seeing rising domestic political pushback. Does this political pressure risk threatening Europe's united stand? What can leaders do to address the economic challenges in their own countries as they look to maintain a united sanctions regime against Russia?
- 5.1.2.e , In the past, Slovakia has imported over 80% of its oil supply from Russia. What are your country's longer-term plans to diversify its energy sources and what concrete solidarity do you expect to receive from other EU member states and EU institutions to support this sudden transition?
- Prime Minister Rutte, European states, including the Netherlands, have militarily supported Ukraine in defending itself against Russian aggression. Is the EU set to hold a stronger defence and security role?
 - Neutrality and non-alignment have been a long-standing principle for some EU member states like Ireland, Austria, Finland and Sweden, affecting consensus on EU security policy.
- 5.1.2.e , you mentioned in early May during your State of the Union 2022 that "Europe may not be perfect [...] but it represents a bastion of liberal democracy, of personal freedoms, of liberty of thought, of safety and security." How can the EU approach divergence among its member states, particularly when it comes to the rule of law, judicial independence, and freedom of the press?
 - Rutte has also had strong words on Hungary and Poland undermining the rule of law and suppressing the free media last year.
- 5.1.2.e Asia is Ireland's third major export market, quite far after Europe and the US. This is also reflected in trade numbers from other Member States. How can Europe play a stronger role as a trading partner and source of investments in emerging and developing markets? (e.g. through the EU's Global Gateway strategy, the EU's response to China's BRI)

- 5.1.2.e : What economic role will a more unified Europe play in finding solutions to some of the world's biggest common challenges (e.g. climate change, health crises) and holding a stronger role on the global stage?
- 5.1.2.e , you welcomed 5.1.2.e earlier this month to discuss the situation in Ukraine and the work your country is doing to assist refugees from the war. Similar visits from US officials have been taking place regularly across the continent. How important a role does the transatlantic alliance still hold in Europe?

Conclusion (2 min)

With 2 minutes remaining, the Moderator will share the top takeaways from the discussion and bring the session to a close on time.

Manifesto on Implementing the European Green Deal in the New Global Context

CEO ACTION GROUP FOR THE EUROPEAN GREEN DEAL

1. Our Vision

The members of the CEO Action Group for the European Green Deal reinforce their commitment to accelerate Europe's green transition and stand ready to support European governments in shaping policies that are "fit for purpose".*

With the European Green Deal, the European Union has set a more ambitious path and is shaping policies that are accelerating Europe's transition into a resource efficient, sustainable, green, innovative, and digitally enabled economy. At the same time, the current spike in gas prices – 300% compared to year ago – is raising concerns over Europe's ability to meet its climate neutrality targets.

In this rapidly evolving global context, members of the Forum's CEO Action Group for the European Green Deal will raise their commitments to support the ambition of the European Green Deal and are ready to work together with policy-makers to transform Europe into a greener continent by turning the acute energy needs and global food security risks into economic opportunities.

Reiterating its support to achieve a 55% emission reduction by 2030, the private sector calls for stepped up collaboration between public and private sectors across three focus areas—energy, agriculture and food systems—as well as across four enablers touching upon innovation ecosystems, job markets, sustainability standards and financing crucial to bring about a just green transition.

2. Strengthening Europe's innovation ecosystems

From R&D to final stage commercialization, the EU has fostered a comprehensive regulatory framework. At the same time, fragmentation across member states might hinder in some areas the ability for businesses to innovate at a large scale. Fostering harmonised policies that are evidence and science based, while further promoting early-stage innovation, will enable a significant upscale of climate technology. This could also have positive ripple effects across economic sectors.

The CEO Action Group commits to working together with national and regional policy-makers to shift policy makers away from the fossil-fuel paradigm to a new one without vested interests and without compromising the EU's high health and safety standard. The CEO Action Group will also work with the Forum's community of Global Innovators to transform Europe into a global hub for innovation.

3. Preparing Europe's job market for the green transition

Europe's green and digital transition is set to shape the European employment landscape, concomitantly bringing along new opportunities and disrupting current jobs. Ensuring Europe's twin transition in a just and inclusive manner requires a stepping up of efforts from both the private and public sectors.

The CEO Action Group will conduct a dedicated survey to understand the needs and opportunities stemming from changing industry requirements and will coordinate the launch of action-oriented pilots under the framework of the European Skills accelerator.

4. Strengthening policy dialogue with global actors on sustainability standards

The EU's sustainable finance framework hinges on the bloc's green taxonomy, which will drive climate-positive, long-term investments. To this effect, ensuring comparability and harmonization between the EU framework and global standards is key.

Building on the Forum's ESG metrics work, the CEO Action Group commits to supporting the European Commission in shaping policies that are fit for purpose and reflect industry realities while being internationally comparable. Policy dialogues will also guide businesses to identify where new sustainable opportunities lie and foster dialogue with crucial international counterparts.

5. Financing Europe's Green Transition

Tax credits and tax incentives could be effective tools to both disincentivize carbon intensive technology and incentivize low-emitting ones.

The CEO Action Group is ready to work together with national policy-makers to ensure that financial instruments and financial policies drive sustainable economic activity. Building on the Forum's global workstream, the CEO Action Group will also become an accelerator for regional initiatives on Financing the Net Zero Transition.

6. Promoting sustainable practices in European agricultural and food systems

Some 39% of EU land is dedicated to agricultural practices. Agriculture is also responsible for 10% of the bloc's total carbon emissions. Deploying large-scale sustainable solutions for agriculture will prevent soil degradation and boost productivity to help Europe trade its food surplus to support other economies struggling with possible food supply chain crisis.

The EU can also make significant progress by implementing sustainable solutions to improve food nutrition and transform the EU food value chain. If 10% of global animal protein was replaced with alternative proteins, it could mean saving agricultural land that is equivalent to 50% of the EU's agricultural land and save 700 million tons of CO₂. Small changes and great options can lead to a more resilient and inclusive food system.

The CEO Action Group will continue to advance sustainable practices through its European Carbon + Farming Coalition, while helping businesses across sectors make informed decisions on how to reduce environmental and health costs in the entirety of the food chain through its True Value of Food initiative.

7. Accelerating Europe's Green Transition

The current energy crisis has sent shockwaves across Europe, exposing energy security vulnerabilities, potentially exacerbating energy poverty, and stalling the region's economic recovery. REPowerEU, a flagship policy, is set to strengthen energy security and accelerate the timeline for a successful energy transition in the EU. Building on the Forum's Energy Transition Index, the CEO Action Group will identify concrete steps to support national economies in their green transition and deploy pilot projects to accelerate the uptake of hydrogen across industries.

CEO support for the European Green Deal can help make Europe a cleaner and more sustainable continent, contributing to the health and livelihoods of its inhabitants. It will also boost innovative power, which creates a more competitive and growing economy, enabling Europe to strengthen its position as the world's foremost economy.

Dear 5.1.2.e just before we leave I am happy to forward you the following "quote".

"Reducing unwanted strategic dependencies is needed to strengthen the EU's open strategic autonomy. Renewables give us the freedom to choose an energy source that is clean, cheap, reliable and ours. To make our own energy is the best answer. To do more in offshore wind, in solar power, in hydrogen, in biomethane."

If possible we would like to see the whole text before it is published, just to know in which context the quote will be placed.

Good luck with all the hard work!

As EU Seeks to Cut Fossil Fuel Ties with Russia, CEOs Step Up with Action Plan on Energy and Food Security

- Russia's invasion of Ukraine has created an urgent need for Europe to rethink its energy policy
- The World Economic Forum has convened business and policymakers to push the clean energy transition in the face of oil and gas shortages brought on by the war
- The private sector has a critical role to play — but needs to be incentivized with the right policy and regulatory framework

Davos-Klosters, Switzerland, 24 May 2022 – The Russian invasion of Ukraine has exposed Europe's energy insecurity, threatening to reverse decades of progress away from fossil fuels and toward renewables. To meet carbon neutrality goals in the face of this challenge, and to address vulnerabilities resulting from dependence on Russian hydrocarbons, the World Economic Forum has convened business and public-sector leaders who have jointly committed to a redoubling of efforts to continue Europe's clean energy transition.

Today, the CEO Action Group for the European Green Deal published its Manifesto on Implementing the European Green Deal in the New Global Context. The CEO Action Group, representing 50 European companies with a combined annual turnover of 1.4 trillion euros, renewed its commitment to a 55% emissions reduction target by 2030. The group said it will focus its efforts not only on energy but on food systems as well — the insecurity of which was also laid bare in after the invasion of Ukraine on February 24. The manifesto specifies four drivers crucial to achieving this green transformation: innovation ecosystems, job markets, sustainability standards, and financing. It calls for closer collaboration with national and regional policymakers to facilitate that transformation.

Mark Rutte, Prime Minister of the Netherlands, Mark Rutte, identified expansion of renewable energy as the key to achieving genuine strategic autonomy for the EU. "Reducing unwanted strategic dependencies is needed to strengthen the EU's open strategic autonomy. Renewables give us the freedom to choose an energy source that is clean, cheap, reliable and ours. To make our own energy is the best answer. To do more in offshore wind, in solar power, in hydrogen, in biomethane."

European Central Bank President Christine Lagarde emphasized the crucial role the private sector must play. "The transition to net zero can only succeed if the private sector contributes decisively," said Lagarde. "It is important that business and industry leaders live up to the commitments of the European Green Deal."

"The European Union is determined to end our dependence on Russian fossil fuels as quickly as possible. We need to boost investment in the technologies of the future and stop funding Putin's war machine," warned European Commission Executive Vice President Frans Timmermans. "Renewables are the answer. By ramping up the rollout of solar, wind, biomethane, and renewable hydrogen, the RePowerEU plan greatly accelerates Europe's transition to climate neutrality."

"The current global geopolitical landscape has marked a turning point for Europe. Energy security has enhanced the need to meet climate goals on an accelerated timeline, therefore the CEO Action Group for the EU Green Deal will be key in setting the trajectory for European Union's green transition. Today's Manifesto marks a new beginning for the community, one that is already built on strong foundation, to further scale action and jointly achieve Europe's climate ambitions" said Børge Brende, President of the World Economic Forum.

"Europe has a unique opportunity to make itself greener, healthier and more sustainable to the benefit of all Europeans. Companies and CEOs will support this journey, which will make Europe more competitive while striving for inclusive growth," said Feike Sybesma, Chairman of the Supervisory Board of Royal Phillips and Ester Baiget, Chief Executive Officer, Novozymes.

31 May 2022

Dear Prime Minister,

I would like to express my sincere gratitude for your active participation in the World Economic Forum Annual Meeting 2022, held under the theme, History at a Turning Point: Government Policies and Business Strategies.

The meeting convened against one of the most challenging geopolitical and geoeconomic backdrops in decades.

At this critical time for the world, your contributions to the strategic dialogues convened in Davos were vital in rallying the international community to step up collective actions on issues such as climate change, peace and safeguarding the economic recovery.

The complexity of today's global challenges reinforces the essence of public-private cooperation. In bringing together over 2,500 leaders from government, business and civil society at a time of growing global fractures, the Annual Meeting reaffirmed the need for cooperation and charted solutions to the world's most urgent challenges.

At a time of profound transformation for Europe, the Forum's international community highly valued your views on Europe's foreign policy. The Forum looks forward to facilitating further interactions with the Netherlands, including with the CEO Action Group for the European Green Deal, which you met in Davos.

On behalf of the entire Forum community, thank you again for your crucial support and engagement.

Yours sincerely,

Goedemiddag 5.1.2.e

N.a.v. de vraag vanuit 5.1.2.e van MinAz of wij (KPN) de SMS berichten die verwijderd zijn door Dhr Rutten op zijn toestel kunnen achterhalen en opleveren, hieronder het antwoord.

- Nee, wij kunnen de SMS-berichten van Dhr Rutten niet achterhalen en opleveren. De inhoud van een SMS bericht word door ons niet opgeslagen en zijn ook niet leesbaar.

Hieronder globaal (in Jip en Janneke) weergegeven hoe het SMS-verkeer verloopt binnen KPN.

- Klant A verzend een SMS bericht naar klant B.
- De SMSC van KPN ontvangt het bericht van kant A en verstuurd deze naar klant B.
 - Als klant B bij KPN zit dan zullen wij het bericht afleveren bij klant B
 - Als klant B bij een andere provider zit dan zullen wij het bericht afleveren bij de MSC van de betreffende provider en die levert het SMS bericht af bij klant B.
 - Als een bericht niet direct afgeleverd kan worden zullen wij (KPN) het bericht max 3 dagen proberen af te leveren bij klant B of de MSC van de andere provider.
 - Na het afleveren en of 3 dagen bewaren, word het bericht verwijderd van de KPN SMSc.
- Van ieder bericht word wel een CDR record aangemaakt (zonder bericht inhoud) en deze word 6 mnd bewaard bij onze billing afdeling (Mediaton). JH: ik ben 99% zeker dat dit 6 mnd is, als jullie het 100% willen weten dan moet ik het morgen navragen bij Mediation.
 - In een CDR is alleen meta data zichtbaar. Dit houdt in: 06 nummers van klant A en B, en de datum en tijd van verzenden/ontvangen.

Onder Hubs verstaan wij de elementen in de core netwerk, dit zijn o.a de onderstaande elementen. Ook hierin worden de SMS-berichten niet opgeslagen en is de tekst niet zichtbaar:

Allereerst dank voor alle inzet tot nu toe.

Ter informatie.

Er moet vanavond nog een brief naar de Tweede Kamer. Daarin zullen wij het volgende opnemen: "Navraag bij de provider heeft geleerd dat..." en dan jullie eerste passage m.b.t. het niet achterhalen en opleveren van sms berichten. Dan weet je dat alvast en wordt je morgen ook niet verrast.

Smsc? SMSC staat voor Short Message Service Center, de SMSC is dus het daadwerkelijk SMS systeem
Msc? Is het Core element waarop de berichten binnen komen bij de operators
Cdr? dat is een billing record (call detail record)

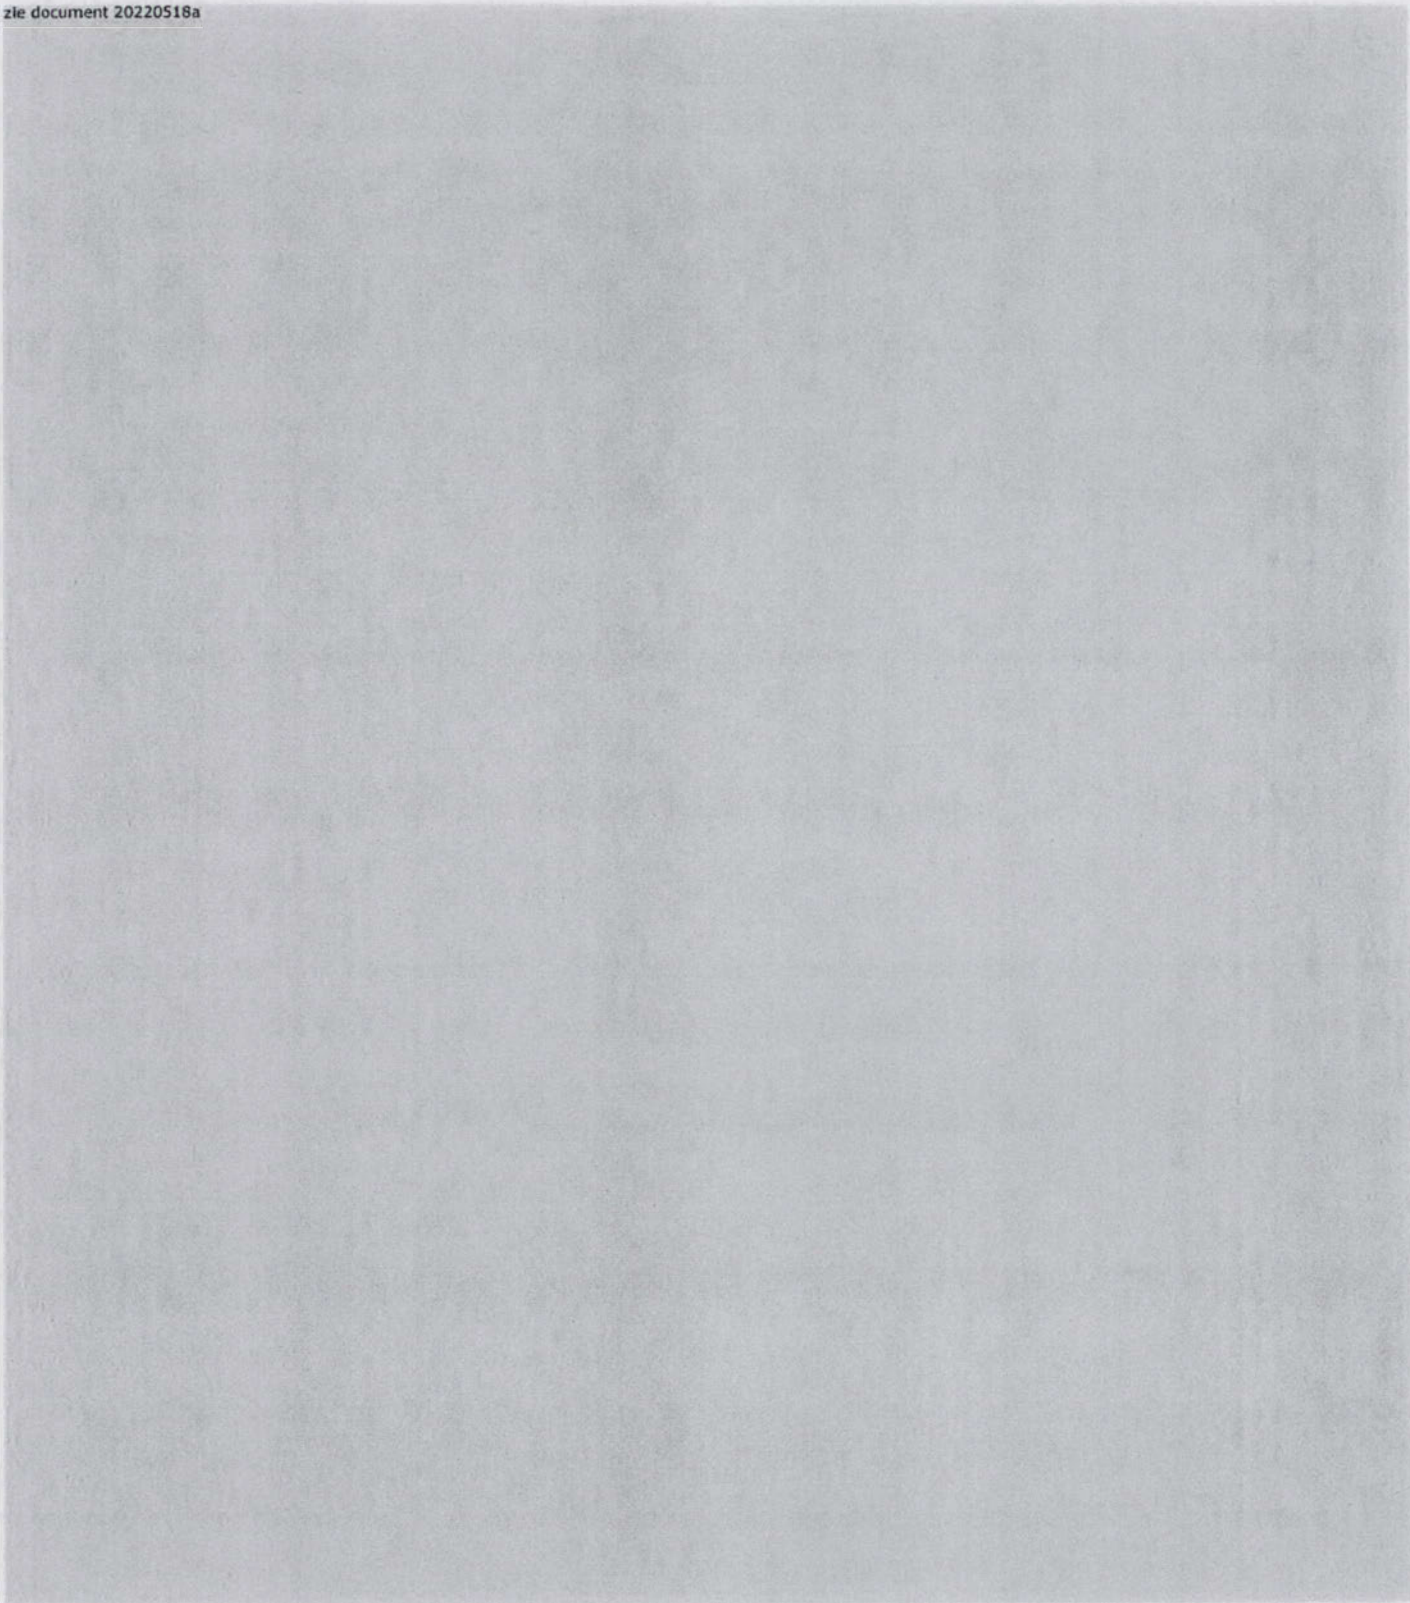

De vraag of de informatie openbaar gepubliceerd mag worden, staat inmiddels uit.

Aanvulling nav ons gesprek mbt de factuur mobiel, kreeg ik onderstaande info van een collega die SMS op facturen heeft bestudeerd.
Wellicht kunnen jullie met deze info verder:

Min. AZ kan aan de hand van de facturen zien aan wie, welke dag en welk tijdstip Dhr. M. Rutte een sms heeft verstuurd. Ontvangen SMS zit niet in zijn factuur en ook niet in ZIJN CDR's.

Sms-berichten			€
Gekozen nummer	Datum	Tijdstip
██████████	28 mrt	12:46	0,000
Totaal Sms-berichten			0,00

Ik kan op mijn KPN-factuur een overzicht zien van alle mobiele gesprekken die ik heb gehad en een APART overzicht van de SMS die ik heb verstuurd.

Ik vertrouw erop je hiermee voldoende te hebben geïnformeerd,
Nog een fijn weekend.

Beste 5.1.2.e

Ik heb je zojuist geprobeerd te bellen nav je mail van vrijdagavond.
Je geeft aan dat de gewenste informatie (vaak) niet beschikbaar is in de portaal Mobiel: MMS.

Je vraag:

- vanuit welke nummers zijn sms'jes naar het bewuste telefoonnummer gestuurd; dit is dus niet mogelijk
- naar welke nummers zijn sms'jes vanaf het bewuste telefoonnummer gestuurd.
 - > de periode dat dit inzichtelijk is maximaal 6 maanden

Ik heb hieronder de kontaktgegevens van de MMS service desk bijgevoegd.
Zij hebben gedetailleerde kennis van deze portaal en ik adviseer je danook met deze desk te bellen of een email te sturen.

Ik ben er van overtuigd dat je hier de gewenste nummers inzichtelijk kunt krijgen van SMS-jes die met het bewuste telefoonnummer over de afgelopen 6 mnd zijn verstuurd.
Laat me aub weten of dit gelukt is.

Beste 5.1.2.e

Aan de hand van de onderstaande mail ben ik zelf met de portal aan de slag gegaan. Daarbij constateerde ik twee zaken. De portal incl. de financiële rapportage is vaak niet beschikbaar, de kpn incident medewerker beaamde dat. Dat maakt het zoeken lastig. Daarnaast biedt de portal, als deze bereikbaar is zeer veel mogelijkheden waarmee de kans groot is dat ik zaken over het hoofd zie en daarmee niet tegemoet kom aan de informatiebehoefte van de Tweede Kamer.

Bij deze alsnog het verzoek om de gevraagde gegevens bij ons aan te leveren:

- vanuit welke nummers zijn sms'jes naar het bewuste telefoonnummer gestuurd;
- naar welke nummers zijn sms'jes vanaf het bewuste telefoonnummer gestuurd.

Gaarne in een overzicht per verzonden/ ontvangen sms de datum, tijdstip, nummer verzender, nummer ontvanger vermelden.

De periode waar het hier om gaat is 19-11-2021 t/m 19-5-2022.

Alvast bedankt voor de moeite.

Ik ben op zoek naar de factuur van de maand mei 2022. Ik heb even in de portal gekeken maar daarin is ie niet beschikbaar terwijl normaalgesproken de 9^e de facturen beschikbaar komen. Daarnaast kan ik geen enkele factuur meer downloaden. Daarvoor heb ik recentelijk een ticket ingeschoten maar er lijkt nog geen oplossing te zijn. KPN geeft in het ticket de respons dat ze een ticket bij de leverancier hebben aangemaakt. We hebben dus voor nu met twee uitdagingen te maken.

Heb je de mogelijkheid om de factuur van mei 2022 te verkrijgen en deze aan mij te sturen? Daarnaast zou het ook fijn zijn dat de download functionaliteit weer gaat werken.

Ik hoor graag van je.

Geachte 5.1.2.e

Vanochtend heeft ^{5.1.2.e} [redacted] unit ICT-Service en Informatievoorziening van het Ministerie van Algemene Zaken, contact met u gehad over het verkrijgen van metadata van het berichtenverkeer per sms van de Minister-president, Mark Rutte. De Tweede Kamer (lid Klaver) heeft gisteren de Minister-president verzocht inzicht te bieden in de door hem verstuurde en ontvangen sms-berichten. Tot 12 mei jl. had het Ministerie van Algemene Zaken een abonnement voor de mobiele telefoon van de heer Rutte bij uw organisatie.

Naar ik heb begrepen wordt van elk bericht een Call Detail Record (CDR) aangemaakt dat door uw organisatie 6 maanden wordt bewaard. Vanuit de database met CDR's zou het mogelijk moeten zijn de door de Tweede Kamer gevraagde informatie te destilleren. Wij zouden graag over deze informatie beschikken. Ik ben mij er van bewust dat dit geen alledaags verzoek is, maar gezien de informatieplicht die bewindslieden aan het Parlement hebben, is het een verzoek met een bijzonder belang. Graag verneem van ik van u wat de mogelijkheden zijn.

Vriendelijke groet,
^{5.1.2.e} [redacted]

Beste 5.1.2.e

KPN heeft zojuist deze rapportage nog even doorgestuurd. Dit zou dus overeen moeten komen met de aantallen op de facturen, zie de bijlage in deze mail. Als ik het zo snel zie is de derde regel van onderen in de bijlage van belang, de premium sms berichten. Ik heb de facturen nu even niet bij de hand om verklaarbare redenen.

Daarnaast geven ze dus nogmaals aan dat de premium sms berichten met voicemail te maken hebben.

Tot zover. Is dit voldoende?

m.v.g.

Goedemorgen ^{5.1.2.e}

Zoals beloofd kom ik even terug op de aanvullende vragen die u heeft gesteld en die ik nog een keer aan u bevestig.

[illegible]

Even nog als aanvulling op mijn vorige vraag. Weten we zeker dat dit te maken heeft met voicemail in en uitschakelen? Ja dit is zeker. Van deze handeling krijgt persoon ook op het toestel een bericht.

[illegible]

Ik heb op uw verzoek een rapportage gemaakt waarin u kan zien dat over die specifieke periode 41 keer een registratie heeft plaatsgevonden van voicemail aan- en uitzetten.

41 keer is dus geen bedrag. Meer dan 6 maanden geleden terugkijken, is niet mogelijk.

Achter voicemail op de regel er onder ziet u een bedrag staan, dit is vanwege uitluisteren van de voicemail.

Hoop u op deze wijze voldoende te hebben geïnformeerd.

Met vriendelijke groeten

KPN Servicedesk
